

PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENTS

Premiers Williams and Wall Still Popular; Graham Now at the Bottom

Approval for the performance of Nova Scotia Premier Darrel Dexter dropped by 20 points since November 2009.

[TORONTO – Mar. 15, 2010] – The premiers of Newfoundland and Labrador and Saskatchewan continue to be the only provincial heads of government who get a positive review from a majority of their constituents, a new Angus Reid Public Opinion poll has found.

The online survey of a representative national sample of 7,000 Canadians included large sample sizes in nine provinces.

Newfoundland and Labrador Premier Danny Williams remains the highest-rated premier. Four-in-five respondents (80%, +2 since November 2009) approve of the way Williams has performed, while only 11 per cent disapprove.

Saskatchewan's Brad Wall is second on the list of popular premiers with 56 per cent (-2).

The approval rating for Manitoba's Greg Selinger stands at 27 per cent (-2), and almost half of respondents in this province (45%) are undecided about the way he has performed. Selinger took over from Gary Doer last October.

In a stunning reversal, the approval rating for Nova Scotia's Darrell Dexter dropped from 43 per cent at the end of 2009 to 23 per cent this time around. Dexter now sits in the low-20s along with three other provincial premiers: British Columbia's Gordon Campbell (23%), Quebec's Jean Charest (22%) and Ontario's Dalton McGuinty (21%).

KEY FINDINGS

- Best Approval Ratings: Williams (NL) 80%, Wall (SK) 56%

From February 16 to February 23, 2010 Angus Reid Strategies conducted an online survey among 7,000 randomly selected Canadian adults who are Angus Reid Forum panelists. The sample includes 1,000 adults in British Columbia, Alberta, Ontario and Quebec, 800 adults in Saskatchewan and Manitoba, 450 adults in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, and 400 adults in Newfoundland and Labrador. The margin of error—which measures sampling variability—is +/- 3.1% for BC, AB, ON and QU, +/- 3.5 per cent for SK and MB, +/- 4.6 per cent for NB and NS, and +/- 4.9 per cent for NL. The results have been statistically weighted according to the most current education, age, gender and region Census data to ensure a sample representative of the entire adult population in each one of these provinces. Discrepancies in or between totals are due to rounding..
